Southwestern "Bad Man" Visited By His Spouse

MOST TROUBLE

Hugo, Okla., July 23.—(AP) Apparently suffering as much from chigger bites as from a gunshot wound over his heart, Roy "Pete" Traxler was heartened by visits from his wife and mother as officials of two counties prepared today to demand he pay the death penalty for armed robbery.

"Hello, honey, how are you?" asked Mrs. Neil Tingley Traxler, planting a kiss on the wounded desperado's lips yesterday,

"Hello." Traxler replied wanly, scratching his chigger bites, souvenir of a 12-day game of tag through the woods with the law-"How are you?"

Woman Under Bond, Mrs. Traxler is free on $5,000 bond on a federal charge of harboring a fugitive. She was accused of hiding Traxler and Fred Yindol, with whom Traxler and seven other men fled from the Huntsville, Tex., state prison farm. She was captured Tuesday when she faintetd and was found in the fugitives' car after the pair dodged a posse near Aylesworth, Okla.

Traxler was shot down Wednesday and Tindol was slain by two men they had taken hostage, James E. Bentotn, an oil field worker and Frank Trimmer. The hostages agreed to testify against the desperado.

He is under a 99-year sentence there for armed robbery.

Sam Colby, Marshal county attorney, and Ben Carter, Bryan county aftorney, came here to seek custody of Traxler. Colby was "alin Oklahoma for trial.
